Okay, so you're serving your first Tres Dias weekend and you're wondering what to do. You have someone on the weekend that you have sponsored and you can't wait to be able to say to them "It just gets better". Here's a quick checklist that will insure the weekend will be a blessing to the candidates that you remember it to be.

1. Line the walk. Have your flashlight ready if needed, and always have your smile on. Even when it's quiet time, have your smile on and line the walk.

2. Be prepared for any type of weather. There have been times when snow, rain, sleet, and heat have come on the same weekend. Be ready.

3. Pitch in when an opportunity arises. There are situations, believe it or not, when time is short and extra effort is needed to get to the next rollo, or chapel. Be ready to help out kitchen chas or chapel chas to be ready for the candidates arrival. Look for opportunity here.

Of course, we can make this list go on and on. I'm sure there are some things that come to mind when you read this, and that's good, hang on to them. The single most important thing to remember on the weekend is this:

THIS IS GOD'S WEEKEND!!

He is the ONE in control and the ONE
That makes all this possible!!

Give thanks to Him for what He does and will Do on MCTD #15!
